INLAND SINGERS READY FOR CONCERT
L. to R., Linda, Danny and Beverly Hoover

DOUBLE SCHEDULE

Inland Children To Give Concert

The Inland Children's chorus today will present two performances at the Dayton Art Institute. The concerts, sponsored jointly by the Institute and the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, will begin at 2:30 and 4:30 p. m.

The 100 young singers—none is older than 16—will be under the direction of Joseph P. Geiger. Paul Ray Jones will serve as pianist for the program.

The program, 15th annual such appearance at the Art Institute, will feature Wilson's arrangement of the spiritual, Were You There; Britten's All People That on Earth Do Dwell; excerpts from Rodgers' The King and I; Moeller's The Happy Wanderer and Steel's America, Our Heritage.
