

"Thanks a million," wrote Angela Mae Lehman in a letter of appreciation addressed to General Manager J. D. O'Brien, thanking Inland for the opportunities she found as a member of the Children's Chorus.

Miss Lehman retired from the chorus last May when she reached 17—the age limit. A member for eight years, she expects to continue with her music even though she is no longer eligible for the chorus. Her letter to Mr. O'Brien reads:

"The coming of Fall brings the opening of a new season in the Inland Children's Chorus under the capable direction of Mr. Richard B. Westbrook, and it is at this time that I fully realize the value of the unusual opportunity which it has afforded me in the past eight years. Also it is with regret that I now must say I am a "former member" of this group.

"To show my gratitude and to express my appreciation of the splendid training I received, I wish to extend my very best wishes for a very successful year to the Inland Manufacturing Division, to Mr. Westbrook, and the entire Children's Chorus.

"I wish to use the new opening season as my opportunity of saying, 'Thanks a million for everything!'"
