Christmas Greetings!

We hope that you and yours are doing well in this strange holiday season.

Janice and I are disappointed that we will not be able to come or to organize the luncheon/exhibit on April 24, 2021. We plan to ship the displays we prepared to Toni Vanden Bos at Wright State Special Collections. You can view them on InlandChorus.com.

Toni noted that, regardless of where you live, the inlandchorus.com website will bring a smile and give you a fun activity to share with family -- and help take their minds off the stresses of the pandemic. She says that the website brings people together, and it is like visiting with a friend.

If you wish to view the physical items, consider scheduling a trip to Special Collections:

Annual Christmas Concert by the
INLAND CHILDREN'S CHORUS

*Evenings when I go to sleep,
Fourteen angels watch do keep.
Two stand here above me.
Two stand there below me.
Two who guard my right hand,
Two who guard my left hand,
Two my sleep attending,
Two to wake me bending,
Two to point when I arise,
The way to Heaven's Paradise.*

"Evening Prayer" (German: "Abendsegen" or evening blessing or benediction) from Hansel and Gretel 1893 by Engelbert Humperdinck.
