Young Daytonian Meets U. S. Ambassador Today

Charles meets the American ambassador in Copenhagen today.

And for his big moment Charles Marshall II, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall of 3231 Sunny Crest lane, will be courtly, correctly dressed and quite splendid.

Charles will be formally presented to Ambassador Rōbert D. Coe during a reception at the American embassy in Denmark's capital.

He and his mother (she's Gert-rude A. Bucher, Dayton attorney) flew to Copenhagen Friday.

From there, they'll go to Helsinki, Finland, for the 1954 meeting of the International Federation of Women Lawyers and later attend International Federation of Lawyers (men and women) sessions in Monte Carlo. Mrs. Marshall is the only Dayton woman lawyer affiliated with the federation.

Where did Charles get his finery? Simple.

It's regulation garb for members of the Inland Childrens' chorus.

And Charles is a member in good standing.
